MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Annual elections and goals for the new year

The Mistletoe Heights Neighborhood Association (MHNA) has recently completed our annual elections. Thanks you to all who attended and congratulations to the newly elected officers. The MHNA is your voice for the community. I encourage participation in our quarterly neighborhood meetings – it is a great way to meet our neighbors and learn about the many issues facing our neighborhood. Also, continue to visit our web site “www.mistletoeheights.com” to view the upcoming meetings calendar and other useful neighborhood information. If you cannot attend meetings, the resident e-mail list and the website are great ways to stay in touch with your community.

Mistletoe Heights is blessed with many advantages ... beautiful homes, access to the Trinity River and trail systems, proximity to downtown, and people who care about and wish to become involved in preserving and improving their neighborhood. I, along with our neighborhood officers - Vice President Walter Brady, Secretary Lisa Gowan, Treasurer Jeri Jo Blackmon, and Newsletter Editor Marjorie Day - would like to build on the traditions we already have here in Mistletoe Heights.

I believe there are things we can accomplish to make Mistletoe Heights a better place to live. As part of this effort, I think it is important to list specific goals for the upcoming year. The major items as I see them are as follows:

- Additional and improved landscaping at the entrance of the neighborhood from Forest Park Boulevard to Jerome Avenue, and west of Forest Park Boulevard. This includes plantings at the Jerome/Rosedale entrance.
- Additional tree plantings within the sidewalk medians. This will beautify and also serve as noise buffers.
- Hire a professional landscaper to maintain the 2400 Harrison Ave.

Congratulations to Melanie and Flavious Smith of 2400 Harrison Ave, recipients of the Mistletoe Heights' December Yard of the Month. The Smith's sweeping landscape perfectly complements the charming 1915 architecture of this beautiful home. The garden starts on the east end of the yard and sweeps across the front in a dramatic curve extending all the way to west corner. A beautiful Magnolia tree towers above the east side of the garden, providing shade for nandinas, azaleas, dusty miller and tradescantia or purple heart.

The bed on the west end of the yard is exploding with fall color. Yellow pansies and lantana are the perfect fall color compliment to their deep red nandinas. A few purple coneflowers and the green spikes of hardy Iris provide height in the seasonal garden.

Two pathways anchored by nandinas welcome you to the large front porch where two statuesque dogs stand guard over Triangle park. The dog statues are my children's favorite part of the landscape. The front porch is beautifully appointed with containers spilling over with sweet potato vine and Cora vinca. Pink roses anchor the west wall of the home, punctuated with dusty miller and colorful daisies. A sprawling live oak provides shade over the east side of the yard and charming porte-cochère. Be sure to stop by for another look at the yellow columbine this spring, along with new plantings next summer.

As our December winners, the Smiths will receive a complimentary gift card provided by Calloway's Nursery. Thank you to Smiths for preserving the charm of Mistletoe Heights!

I love my "gray Taco Bell"...

The gray mission-style bungalow on Harrison Avenue has been my home for almost 30 years. And Mistletoe Heights has always meant much more to me than just a convenient place to live.

I'm already your neighbor, I'd like to be your friend—and Realtor®.

While I may not have a drive-thru window, no one will work harder for you. After all, you know where I live!

sidewalks (both sides) from Forest Park Boulevard to Park Place.

- Placement of neighborhood signage (banners).
- Plans for a new entrance sign. We currently have drawings and prices.
- Continued discussion/coordination with the city on neighborhood traffic issues.
- Ways to increase MHNA income.
- Working with the City on infrastructure improvements.

This list shows that there is a lot of work to do. I encourage your participation in being part of a team to accomplish these goals. Please contact me, or any of the MHNA officers, if you are interested. I will develop a more detailed description of the above items that will be posted on the web site.

I recently had a conversation with friends regarding a potential slogan for the neighborhood. One that was put forward was "Mistletoe Heights ... the Place To Be". I thought that was pretty good for a spur of the moment thought. I think we all feel fortunate to be living in a neighborhood with character and with people that care about its quality of life.

In closing I would like to thank Jeff Davis for serving as our president for the past four years. We all appreciate his service to the neighborhood. Jeff has also graciously agreed to hold future quarterly meetings at his beautiful home.

Wishing a happy holiday to all and a happy New Year.

Two Christmas trees for Mistletoe Heights

We have the bows on our streetlights, and now we will have neighborhood Christmas trees! At the November Mistletoe Heights Association meeting, we voted to put a Christmas tree in Triangle Park and one in Newby Park.

The 14-foot Triangle Park tree will be lit with strings of mini white solar powered Christmas lights. The 12-foot Newby Park tree will be lit with multi-colored LED's. We also purchased solar holiday lights for our neighborhood sign.

I hope that everyone enjoys having our own neighborhood tree display and that we will as a community deepen our holiday traditions as a neighborhood.

These Frasier Fir trees were ordered from a farm here in Texas and will be delivered on December 1. One is 14 foot and the other is 12 foot.

The lights will be kept at Jeri Jo Blackmon's home after the holiday season.

We hope you will enjoy the large decorated trees on your walks and drives through the neighborhood, and look forward to building new neighborhood traditions that will make Mistletoe even more festive during the holiday season and bring us all a bit closer.

Wishing everyone a Happy Holidays and a Wonderful New Year!
Respectfully, Marjorie Day

Thank you Bow-makers!

Thanks to the Willis' for having our bow-tying party. The volunteers who made our bows and those who put them on the streetlights really make all of our holidays a little brighter. Thank you so much for your time, effort and love of your community.

Mistletoe Heights traffic committee update

Happy Holidays!

We're still in the process of organizing the reconstituted Mistletoe Heights traffic committee, and we expect to hold regularly scheduled meetings after the New Year. Some new issues have surfaced. Here's an update on what we're considering:

* Proposal to restripe Forest Park Boulevard between Park Hill and Rosedale to: one lane north and one lane south, with a center turn lane, and bike lanes on both sides of the road. The Berkeley neighborhood association plans to present this proposal to their members for a vote in January, and they're asking us to consider approving the same resolution to the city. Fort Worth South also appears to favor the idea. I attended a Berkeley association presentation on this topic in November. This proposal, as Berkeley leadership lays it out, would slow traffic and decrease accidents on Forest Park Boulevard, make it easier to turn onto Forest Park from side streets, make it easier for pedestrians to cross Forest Park, better connect our neighborhoods to the city's bicycle network, and discourage non-resident motorists from using Forest Park as a throughway. The Berkeley leadership acknowledges that city traffic engineers may oppose the idea, simply because Forest Park IS part of an important artery between downtown and Southwest Fort Worth. The Mistletoe Heights traffic committee intends to hold a meeting on this topic in January, and to present our findings to our neighborhood association for a vote at its next quarterly meeting in February.

* Alternative commuter rail platform at the southeast corner of the railroad tracks and Mistletoe Boulevard. Update: Baylor, which bought the seven-acre tract over the summer, tells Fort Worth South it is interested in studying the idea of a rail platform on the location, but doesn't want to commit to anything immediately.

 Scott Nishimura

GARDENING

By Marjorie Day

Want a great looking Craftsman outdoor planter for the winter? Try these two plant combinations;

1. Christmas Pot

Use a tree shaped rosemary plant for the height element in your container.

Next, plant bright winter pansies as the filler along the bottom of the container and finally use trailing pansies to cascade over the side of the container.

2. Winter Bouquet

Mound the potting soil in your planter and plant ornamental cabbages into a bouquet shape with ivy densely planted along the pots edge.

Be sure your pot has good drainage. Use quality potting mix and slow release organic fertilizer.

At the holidays, it is nice to give a bonus to people you hire all year - your housekeeper, lawn service people, handymen, etc. Gifts of food and personal items are nice. Cash bonuses can really be helpful for working people at holiday time. A housekeeper should get an extra month. So if they come twice a month at $60 a week a bonus of $120 would be about right. Be generous and give your bonus early in December. Regular help should be at the top of your gift list. Then your charitable donations, then gifts for family and finally friends. Set your giving budget to those who deserve and need the most.

Always calculate tips based on the original bill, not based on any discounts or coupons you used. If your meal would have been $50 and a coupon makes it $25, tip on the $50. The server had to do the same amount of work.

Striped Telephone Poles

Ever wonder why there are a few telephone poles around our neighborhood with silver and red stripes on them? I did and I found out the answer: fire call boxes.

These are the old markings from where Gamewell Fire Alarm pull boxes were located. The boxes sent a signal to the fire alarm headquarters that was located at Texas Street and Macon Street downtown. Each box was numbered and sent a telegraph like signal to the fire alarm office by punching holes in a roll of paper tape. If the box was say 2432, the tape would be punched  * . Then the signal would be resent to the fire stations where an alarm would sound to the responding stations.

The rest of the stations would get the signal on their "joker" system and the watchman would check it out. Each station had a large map book that showed the location of the boxes. If an extra alarm was called for by radio, or at the fire alarm box, the signal would go to the alarm office. A second alarm would start   * with the box number following it. Each district chief (plus a few companies) carried a key to the fire alarm box for this purpose and to rewind the spring loaded box.

The boxes came from the Gamewell Police & Fire Alarm Company of Newton, Massachusetts. The first system was installed in Chicago in 1881.

Fort Worth bought them as much for the Police Department as for the Fire Department. Fort Worth's system was installed in 1912 for about $36,000. This was paid for with a $50,000 bond issue. The first test call on the new system was on June 16, 1912, from Box #1. There were also police call boxes in downtown Fort Worth.

They were larger than the fire alarm boxes and were painted blue.

The system at the police headquarters was manned round-the-clock by 2 operators, each working a 12-hour shift. Officers carried keys that opened the boxes when they needed to use them or there was a light up on the pole that could be turned on from headquarters whenever they wanted to contact an officer on the beat. On the initial system, officers called in every hour, with the call times staggered so that the switchboard received one call every 2 minutes, starting over the next hour. It must have been very stressful for the operators! One problem with expanding the system beyond its original number of boxes was the logistics of having beat cops call in every hour; with one operator and one switchboard, they could only take so many calls per hour.
