President's Corner Volunteers are needed – urgently!

By Josh Lindsay

On Page 7 of this issue there's an item about volunteer positions that the neighborhood association is looking to fill.

Please take some time to look through it.

A good number of people have "retired" from their volunteer positions, and we've been slow to pick up the slack.

Your neighborhood officers are such a laid-back, relaxed group that we have not resorted to a mandatory draft or roaming press gangs to enlist help for those positions.

Well, laid-back and relaxed no more. We've set a goal to fill all those positions this year.

I know now that it's not going to happen with a polite "Would you be so kind as to volunteer" request in the newsletter.

Nope. If we don't get people volunteering to help, I'll just have to employ (gulp) The Direct Ask: You there, in the back, trying to sit lower in your chair, I see you!

Have a look at some of the volunteer positions needed and you'll probably see something you would like to do anyway, such as gardening, being social, and walking while drinking wine.

Seriously. These are the sorts of things we are looking for volunteers to do. Go find the item and then get in touch – before we have to come find you ourselves!

All the best.

A time when Mistletoe Heights had moonshine, livestock and streetcars

Dr. Arvel Ponton, the father of the letter writer

By Jim Peipert

In the 1920s and '30s, Mistletoe Heights was still a young neighborhood, pushing into the surrounding countryside. It had horses, cows and goats, as well as two illicit stills, both of which blew up.

Neighborhood kids spent time after school fishing for crawdads in the stream by the railroad tracks, blocks of ice were delivered by horse-drawn wagon, and street cars trundled along Forest Park Boulevard.

Those reminiscences were provided by Dr. Arvel R. Ponton in a letter written on July 29, 1988, in Alpine in West Texas, where Dr. Ponton then lived.

The letter was addressed to a "Mr. Chappell," who at the time lived at 1210 Mistletoe Drive, an address that no longer exists. Dr. Ponton grew up at 1208 Mistletoe Drive, the home now owned by Bruce and Lisa Lowry.

Dr. Ponton's letter has seen some limited circulation in neighborhood emails, and the full text can be found on the Mistletoe Heights website, under "Our history."

But we felt that the letter, with its vivid recollections of Mistletoe Heights as it was 80 to 90 years ago, deserved broader attention in the newsletter.

Successful Coat Drive

Thanks to Mistletoe Heights, we helped some students at De Zavala Elementary School to keep a little bit warmer during the recent cold snap!

De Zavala has a "Wall of Goodness," to which Mistletoe Heights residents donated a total of 11 adult and four children's coats.

The school staff hangs donated coats on a wall. Anyone who needs a coat, whether a child or an adult (or larger teen), can pick up any garment that fits.

So, once again, and to borrow our "giving slogan" at work, a big "Thanks to Mistletoe Heights for doin' good."

Recalling a time when Mistletoe Heights had moonshine stills, livestock and streetcars

1208 Mistletoe Drive

Dr. Ponton wrote that he set down his reminiscences at the urging of his daughter, Berry Crowley, and that he wanted to share them with Mr. Chappell.

“My family moved from Lubbock to Ft. Worth in 1919,” Dr. Ponton wrote. “My father had built Lubbock Memorial Hospital (now Methodist Hospital) which he sold before moving.

“We lived in a small house down the hill towards the river while the big house was being built...

“Growing up there in Mistletoe Heights in the ‘20s and ‘30s was, in retrospect, an idyllic time despite the Depression. I remember spending a lot of time listening to the radio – ‘Amos and Andy’ was one of my favorites.

“I always looked forward to the arrival of the ice man and his wagon because he would give me a chip of ice and let me pet his horse. My mother would put a card in the window to tell him how many pounds of ice we needed.

“The neighborhood,” Dr. Ponton went on, “was considerably more rural in the those days and we had horses, cows and goats down by the river.

“We also had a duck pond, a small track for sulky racing and a fishing pier out over the river. Most of this was washed away in one of the Trinity’s more violent floods.

“We had a black couple who lived in the little house which is the garage now. He did all the heavy work around the house and drove the car for us. His wife did the cooking.

“I remember it was a treat to eat with them because she would fix opossum (captured while plundering our garbage can) and would let me sop my bread in the grease – something strictly forbidden at my mother’s table.”

Dr. Ponton wrote that some of his boyhood pastimes in Mistletoe Heights, besides crawdad fishing, were “riding bicycles, playing football in the vacant lot, playing marbles on the Klars’ tennis court and staging wars with rubber band guns. My biggest financial move was calling on the neighbors to sell the Saturday Evening Post out of my little red wagon.”

Judging from a map that Dr. Ponton drew at the end of his letter, the vacant lot he referred to was on the west side of Mistletoe Drive directly across from its intersection with Mistletoe Boulevard.

The Klars’ tennis court, according to the map, was on Mistletoe Boulevard in the middle of the block between Mistletoe Drive and Clara Street, on the north side of the boulevard.

The map also shows the streetcar tracks along Forest Park Boulevard.

As a boy, Dr. Ponton witnessed the Great Depression and the Prohibition era.

“I remember helping my father make bathtub gin – really made in the bathtub – with alcohol he was able to bring home from the hospital.

“We hid the finished product in a cabinet covered by a tapestry halfway up the front stairs. A button in the entry alcove would open the cabinet door. Very high tech.

“Prohibition,” he wrote, “also accounted for the two stills in the neighborhood – both of which blew up. Depression and hard times accounted for the three men in the neighborhood who did time in prison – early white collar crime.”

Among some of Dr. Ponton’s other boyhood recollections:

- The streetcar tracks on Forest Park Boulevard “were our favorite target for ‘greasing’ on Halloween. That was probably our biggest vice growing up.”

Historical medallion at 1208 Mistletoe Drive, the home built and first occupied by Dr. Arvel and Faye Ponton

- One of the daughters of the Haltom family (Haltom Jewelers and Haltom City), who lived at 1200 Mistletoe Drive, taught him how to dance the Charleston and the black bottom.

- Among his classmates at Culver Military Academy in Culver, Ind., where he enrolled on a scholarship in 1933, were Tex Moncrief and Amon Carter Jr.

After Culver, Ponton graduated from the FORT WORTH, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JULY 10, 1921.

PUBLIC INVITED TO INSPECT
NEW $250,000 PROTESTANT
HOSPITAL TODAY FROM 2 TO 8

Fort Worth's newest medical institution, the Protestant Hospital erected by Drs. A. R. Ponton and H. V. Johnson at Ballinger Street and Pennsylvania Avenue at a cost of $250,000, will be formally opened to the public this afternoon in a general reception between the hours of 2 and 8.

Star-Telegram story on the opening of Protestant Hospital in 1921 in the Army in Burma as a doctor attached to a regiment of Chinese troops.

"I spent a year walking about 400 miles in the jungle supplied by air drop, and an additional year in India processing troops to go home.

"Back in the States I took a two-year surgical residency in Lubbock and then returned to Ft. Worth where I practiced in the University of Texas in Austin and then from the university's medical school in Galveston in 1943.

"After an internship at Harris Hospital," Dr. Ponton wrote, "I served clinic my father had built for 8 years before moving to Alpine in 1957. I sold the clinic to Harris Hospital and it is now the site of their power plant."

As a doctor, Ponton had big shoes to fill.

"My father was a pioneer West Texas surgeon who learned to fly so that he could operate on patients in several towns on the same day," Ponton wrote.

"Because of his interest in aviation I was able to meet Will Rogers, Wiley Post and Frank Hawks, and had the experience of flying in the old Ford Tri-Motor when it first came out.

"I remember eating lunch with Will Rogers at Barney Holland's House (on Forest Park Boulevard) and being amazed as I watched him perform what, to a small boy's mind, was nothing short of a miracle – eating lunch and chewing gum at the same time.

"I was with my father and Mr. W.A. Moncrief on the golf course at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs when they brought word to us that Will Rogers and Wiley Post had been killed in a plane crash in Alaska."

Ponton's father was obviously a prominent resident of Fort Worth.

"My father was head of the shrine in Ft. Worth and I remember him leading parades on his horse," Ponton wrote.

"He built several hospitals in the area, the last of which was Pennsylvania Hospital in Ft. Worth which he had to sell during the Depression. He then built a clinic on Pennsylvania Avenue where he practiced until the time of his death in 1944.

"He had purchased some land near Aledo, Texas, and was out there riding when his horse fell, injuring him seriously. Since antibiotics were not readily available in those days, he died from the resulting infection."

There are more historical tidbits in Dr. Ponton's letter, well worth a read of the full text on the Mistletoe Heights website: www.mistletoeheights.org.

Volunteers needed

We need more volunteers! Help us make this neighborhood better.

Are you new to the neighborhood and would like to get involved? Here are a few great ways, and you will get to meet a lot of interesting neighbors!

Yard of the Month: We need someone to write the Yard of the Month column, a short article describing a noteworthy and good-looking yard, perhaps describing some of the plantings and other garden features. No need to worry about photographs. Jim Peipert will take them for you. This is a job that could be taken on individually or by a couple of friends. Thanks to Bruce Horn, it has been a favorite fixture in the newsletter for the last three years and we hope someone will step up to continue it.

Historical Preservation Committee: We are looking for any interested people to join the Historical Preservation Committee. Help us ensure the integrity of the architecture in our community.

Advertising manager: We need someone to solicit and manage ads from local businesses. You would work closely with the treasurer. It would require only a few hours a month.

Social chairperson: Are you a "people person"? We are looking for someone to help coordinate neighborhood events. Most of them already have established leaders, so it would just be a matter of coordination. Other duties would involve finding locations for members' meetings and the Christmas party and providing snacks, drinks and tableware for such meetings. All costs would be reimbursed.

Newby Park Gardening Committee: We need a group of people to work on a rotating basis to care for the plants and flowers in Newby Park. Rosaline Eastep Takes will provide information about the specific duties involved and will manage the schedule.

Wine and Walk leader: We are looking for a person or family to provide a gathering place and starting point for Wine and Walk. Wine and Walk is a fun, informal gathering of Mistletoe Heights residents, including adults, children, strollers and pets, for a leisurely stroll through the neighborhood for 30 to 45 minutes while sipping our favorite beverages. It usually takes place on Sunday evenings at about 7 p.m. in nice weather. It's a wonderful way to meet new and old neighbors, and all we need is someone's driveway to start from. Hosts do not need to provide refreshments; it's BYOB. Hosts may need to send out a reminder email regarding dates or cancellations.

Street representatives: We are looking for street representatives for the 2200 block of Weatherbee Street, the 2100 block of Harrison Avenue, the 2100 block of Morphy Street, and the 2300 block of Mistletoe Avenue. The street reps deliver the newsletter to the individual houses on their respective blocks every other month (February, April, June, August, October, December). The bundle will be delivered to your house for distribution. This job takes only about 15-20 minutes and would be much appreciated.
