Remember to Vote!
Circle May 4th on your calendar! Yes, I know it seems like a long way off, but it will be here before you know it. On May 4, 2019, elections will be held for mayor, city council, FWISD trustees, and the Board of Directors for the Tarrant River Water District. Historically, voter turnout is low for general elections in May. However, there will be important elections this spring. With Judy Needham stepping down as Trustee for FWISD District 5, there will be a new trustee in our district for the first time in over 20 years. Also, the mayoral race will include at least two candidates, one incumbent, and one challenger. Likewise, there are two open spots for the TRWD’s Board of Directors.

For those of you new to the neighborhood, another important date is April 4. This is the final date for voter registration to vote in the May election. More information about voter registration can be found at the county website: www.tarrantcounty.com. Hope to see you at the polls!

Thanks for YOUR GENEROSITY
I would like to take the opportunity to thank every neighbor who donated to the Mistletoe Heights Association last year. We had over $10,700 in donations. Our Treasurer, Jeri Jo Blackmon, reports this is the greatest amount of donations received in a year. That’s amazing! By my count, we received donations from 133 individuals or families in 2018. To those of you who donated, we will use your donations for fun neighborhood events, updates to our greenspaces, and welcome gifts for our new neighbors. 2019 is shaping up to be a fantastic year in our front porch community!

2019 Fort Worth Pet Law Update
As many neighbors already know, last summer, Fort Worth passed new pet laws including a “pooper scooper” ordinance requiring pet owners to pick up their animal’s waste on all public and private property. Previously, pet owners were technically only obligated to clean up after their pet on their own property. So, don’t forget to bring doggie bags with you when you take your pets on a walk around the neighborhood!

Fort Worth passed a variety of other city laws regarding pets, such as a necessity that pets in public areas always be under their owner’s control either by way of a leash or obedience training so that they...

Leadership ISD, a policy-focused initiative that advocates for equity in education, invites the residents of Mistletoe Heights to attend their upcoming Community Conversation meeting on Thursday, February 21. The discussion topic will be the approaching School Board Elections, which are an excellent way to make a difference in the lives of children and the community as a whole. This election is particularly important as no incumbent is running for the District 5 School Board seat, which is the district encompassing Lily B. Clayton. Erika Beltran, a native of Fort Worth, an education advocate, and a previous State Board of Education Member, will be the guest speaker. Leadership ISD requests that attendees get tickets through Eventbrite before the meeting so that the organization can plan enough refreshments.

2019 Fort Worth Pet Law Update

are not a nuisance to others.

Pet owners should also be sure that their pets are properly registered with the City. Fort Worth requires pet owners to have their pets microchipped and registered with the City, or have their pet wear a collar tag showing that they are properly registered. Owners wishing to leave their pets intact must pay a $50 intact permit fee. If an intact pet is impounded at a Fort Worth shelter, the owner must pay a $500 fine if they wish to avoid having their pet spayed/neutered. Landlords in Fort Worth are required to verify that their tenants’ pets’ microchip, rabies vaccination, and intact status are all properly permitted. Prior to the ordinance updates last summer, landlords only had to verify that their tenants’ pets were registered with the City.

Finally, in an effort to encourage the adoption of pets rather than the purchase through puppy mills or pet stores, Fort Worth’s new ordinances banned the purchase of pets within city limits from a place other than where the pet was born (e.g. a home breeder). Non-profits and rescue groups are exempt from this requirement.

Who do you know?

Do you know anyone connected with a business on Park Place, Forest Park Boulevard, Eighth Avenue, Mistletoe Boulevard, Rosedale Street, Magnolia Avenue or Park Hill?

The Mistletoe Express is looking for someone to contact local businesses to advertise in our newsletter.

Over the past few years, the number of advertisers has dwindled, and we need new advertisers to break even on the cost of the newsletter.

Ideally, having an advertising manager for the newsletter would remedy this situation. The position would require a time commitment of only a few hours a month.

But if any individual neighbor has a contact with a business proprietor and would be willing to speak directly to that person about advertising in the Mistletoe Express, that would also be helpful.

If you are interested and able to help, contact treasurer Jeri Jo Blackmon for details about ad specifications, deadlines and pricing, or just look on the back page of the newsletter.

You know you know somebody!
Hi, Neighbors!

Things are quieting down this month, garden-wise, but there’s always something going on!

This was the month that David and I learned that there are “borders” and there are “borders”. Needless to say, most of the borders we’re usually interested in have to do with shrubs and flowers. But the question of exactly where lies the border between Mistletoe Heights and Berkeley had not bothered us too much. When we started our Yard of the Month job, we’d looked on a city-wide neighborhood map, discerned that the southern MH boundary line fell along Park Place, and assumed that the north side of that street was “ours” and the south side “theirs.” And so it is, according to the map and even the realtors. But not, apparently — much to this 26 year MH-er’s surprise — according to neighborhood tradition!

Annette and Bob Tess, who moved into 2212 Park Place a year ago, were delighted when we arrived to tell them we wanted to give their newly landscaped yard the December award, but a bit nonplussed when we brought over the Mistletoe sign. Though their realtor had told them they were moving into MH, all real-life indicators since they’ve been here — i.e, newsletter and mailing list — said Berkeley. Well, given the choice between taking back the sign and reclaiming some of Mistletoe’s rightful territory, the decision seemed clear. And we’re sure you’ll find this colorful late fall yard, not to mention Annette and Bob themselves, as delightful as we have.

The Google map view of this address reminded me of its former, neatly trimmed but less than eye-catching aspect. That predictable, straight line of green shrubs along the porch line is now gone, replaced by a striking assortment of (mostly) Nandinas, arranged in an attractively curved bed. I should mention that the Tesses, recently retired from high-pressure jobs in Dallas, have seriously invested themselves in learning the ways of plants in Texas. They’ve completed the Master Naturalist training cont’d. on page 10

You’re So Close To Home.

And whether home means a new place in Mistletoe Heights or anywhere else in Fort Worth or beyond...

let’s find your dream together.

program offered by Texas Parks and Wildlife, and currently volunteer three hours a week tending the Rock Springs native landscape area at the Fort Worth Botanical Garden. Though Nandinas are far from native (they come from Asia!), the tall variety, sometimes called Heavenly Bamboo, has become a long-established part of Texas landscapes. The Tesses, however, know how to do their research, and they’ve sought out for their garden several newer hybrids from the Southern Living collection that offer exciting color and texture possibilities, especially when combined with a select few other plants.

The front walk to the Tesses’ bungalow splits their front porch into an open patio on the right, furnished with an outdoor rug, table and chairs, and colorful potted plants, and a larger, covered porch to the left. A low wall runs along both porch and patio, providing the backdrop for the rock-lined planted beds. A couple of taller Nandinas grow along the left side of the porch, though these are still regarded as a “compact” variety: they’ll only reach 4’-5’ tall as opposed to the standard’s 8’-10’. They have the classic fall red and green coloration, with seasonal red berries. The bed then curves forward in a wide arc, anchored by a couple of large rocks, a holly tree, and a bright lemon-lime “Sunshine” Ligustrum. A couple Indian Hawthorns provide a deep green base color which sets off two different varieties of smaller Nandinas in the front of the bed: a couple of deep red Flirts, which will stay fairly small (under 2’), and the brighter red and eventually somewhat taller (3’-4’) Obsession.

Along the porch wall at the back of the bed are three Rock Roses, which will grow to 3’-4’ with pink flowers in the spring. And in front of these, the real foliar fun begins! No less than 15 lemon-lime Nandinas (eventually 3’-4’) mix with another half dozen red Obsessions, a couple purple-leafed Loropetalums (Chinese Fringeflowers), and another Indian Hawthorne. A thick mat of dark green Verbena, which will be covered with purple flowers in the spring and summer, fills in along the front curve of the bed. Another large rock anchors the end of the bed closest to the walk, surrounded by a final burst color provided by a second yellow-green Ligustrum, a couple Flirts, and another mat of Verbena.

The color continues in a simpler, straight bed to the right of the walk, in front of the open patio, where we find four lemon-lime Nandinas alternating with five Flirts. The low porch wall behind them and around the side, sports three, large, bright white pots filled with Drift Roses — more spring and summer color to come!

All I can say is, I can’t wait to see this now-young garden in a year or two as those Nandinas reach their full heights! So, thanks, Annette and Bob, for your innovative plantings and ... welcome to Mistletoe Heights!
